JEWISH RELIEF DAY.

President Wilson's proclamation setting aside Thursday, January 27, as Jewish Relief Day is in line with the humanitarian course pursued by this country since the great war began its devastating work in Europe.

The Jews across the sea have suffered acutely along with other victims of the bloody conflict and it is fitting that America should do her full share in ministering to their wants, aiding in mitigating their sufferings.

Voluntary contributions have been called for and Mr. B. W. Lubman has been designated as local treasurer to receive the same.

EDUCATION THAT COUNTS.

It is gratifying to note that Principal Black of the north school building has taken up the thrift campaign which is now being pushed so wisely in America. The school boy or girl can scarcely learn a more valuable lesson than that of saving, acquiring early in life the habits that make the independent, self-sustaining citizen.

We shall have fewer paupers and others who must appeal to public charity when this habit becomes deep-seated as a part of our national life. The schools can do much toward inculcating it and parents can do still more. The young man who is making good wages and spending all he makes has not been interested in one of the most important branches.

JUST SUPPOSE A CASE.

Now just suppose that Chickasha were offered an opportunity to annex a new factory that would have a payroll of $50,000 or $100,000 a year.

We would jump at it. Of course we would. But suppose the factory was owned by a man who was a Jew. Would we begin to see things differently and everyone would feel that business was about to take a fresh spurt. Not alone would merchants be benefited by turning loose this increased sum of money in the town. Directly or indirectly, everybody would share in it in some way.

As far as known this revolutionary manufacturing concern is not knocking at the doors of our hospitable city at the present moment, but it is a fact that the way is open for us to realize all the benefits that it might bring. It is probably safe to say that several times the amount mentioned goes out of Chickasha every year to mail-order houses and other concerns where our people shop. If this money were spent at home it would have precisely the same effect that a similar sum added to payroll of local industries would have.

It looks like a case of mighty poor judgment when the man who has any interest at all in Chickasha chooses to spend his money with merchants in other cities and thus stand in the way of prosperity in his own town.

FIGHT ON INDIAN PAYMENT.

Strong opposition to the proposed per capita payment to Oklahoma Indians, pending the final settlement of the Mississippi-Choctaw matter, is indicated by advices from the national capital. The outlook for this legislation, which is of such vital interest to Eastern Oklahoma, is thus discussed by one of the Washington correspondents.

The Indian appropriation bill now being considered by the house committee on Indian affairs is the object of the warmest solicitude of every member of the Oklahoma delegation in congress. It involves more directly the interests of Oklahoma than any other measure before this congress, perhaps more than all other pending bills.

The fight will be for the Choctaw per capita payment. The delegation will ask for a payment of $200 for the Choctaws and $100 for the Chickasaws. The last congress gave the Chickasaws a payment of $100 and as they hold their funds in common this difference is made. The fight for the participation of the Mississippi Choctaws was strong enough in the senate to kill the Choctaw payment after it got through the house. A bill already offered in the house to reopen the tribal roll of the Choctaws and prohibiting the distribution of the tribal funds pending the making of a new roll, renews this fight. It may be assumed that the Oklahomans will lose no opportunity to advance this cause. They convinced the last congress after a strenuous effort, but there are about one hundred new men to whom the whole argument must be addressed again.

The success of this fight will mean the distribution of approximately five million dollars in the Chickasaw and Choctaw nations. It will not only be a boon to the Indians, but naturally the circulation of such a sum of money interests everybody in the part of the state involved. Oklahoma has strong representation on the Indian committee in Representative Carter, who is the ranking democratic member and Representative Murray, who besides being exceptionally well informed on all Indian affairs, has on former occasions used his skill as a parliamentarian to good advantage in the fight for the Choctaw payment. For a long time it was as easy to kill this item on a point of order, but Mr. Murray succeeded in the last congress in removing the obstacle. The dele-

Leap Year.

Faithful to John. "Will you be mine?" "Such love as mine none ever knewed." "Come to me now and I'll be thine." But John just said, "Well, I'll be moved."

And there is one woman in town who says something is a "business."

St. Simps says he notices that the continued stories in the magazines run till they are concluded.

It always happens that way. Just as soon as anybody brags about our delightful climate, it begins to act up.

Many years ago Moses smashed the golden calf, but that doesn't deter foolish modern folk from worshipping the animal.

After thinking it over carefully you are bound to conclude that there isn't much in the big game unless you see the funny side of it.

But no girl is particularly anxious to have her "steady" pass the house when she has her head hanging out to dry after she has washed her hair.

"Did you visit the legislature?" was asked of a Chickasaw man who had been to the state capital, and the reply was, "Yes, I saw both of them."

While it may sometimes go "agin" the grain, after all one of the easiest ways for a man to please his wife is to wear his clothes the way she wants him to.

The fat reporter opines that it is mighty hard for a man to be an optimist when he has holes in his vest pocket, which let his matches slide down into the lining.

One of the meanest things we ever heard of a woman doing was digging up Scriptural authority for a man to wipe dishes. II Kings 21: "And will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down."

NO REASON FOR IT

When Chickasha Citizens Show a Way. There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ill will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Chickasha citizen says:

W. M. Williams, Chickasha, says: "Whenever, as the result of a cold settling on my kidneys or a strain from standing long, I have suffered from lameness in my back or have noticed an irregular action of my kidneys, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. The results have always been satisfactory."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Williams had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

RODDY'S

THE GOSPEL OF LABOR

But I think the King of that country comes out from his tireless host. And walks in this world of the weary, as if he loved it the most; For here in the dusty confusion, with eyes that are heavy and dim, He meets again the laboring men who are looking and longing for him. He cancels the curse of Eden and brings them a blessing instead; Blessed are they that labor for Jesus partakes of their bread. He puts his hands to their burdens. He enters their homes at night; Who does his best shall have as guest the Master of life and light. And courage will come with his presence and patience return at his touch, And manifold sins be forgiven to those who love him much. And the cries of envy and anger will change to songs of cheer, For the tolling age will forget its rage when the Prince of Peace draws near. This is the gospel of labor—ring it, ye bells of the kirk—The Lord of Love came down from above to live with the men who work. This is the rose he planted, here in the thorn-cursed soil—Heaven is blest with perfect rest, but the blessing of Earth is toil. —Henry Van Dike.
